Future of LEDs as bright as ever!

With LED lighting becoming more and more mainstream, the next generation of solid state lighting technology is already creating interest. With relatively low LED light penetration and huge untapped opportunity, India has become an attractive market which is expected to grow at the rate of 32% during 2015 – 2020 for both domestic as well as international LED players. The market has witnessed a phenomenal growth over the past five years and so has LED Expo.

The 17th edition of LED Expo, which is scheduled to be held from 30 November – 2 December 2017 at Pragati Maidan, New Delhi will set new records for itself, by implementing marketing strategies which will give you a fresh perspective and will yield the best returns for your business.

LED Expo is headed by the biennial Light + Building event. The mother event will take place from 18 – 23 March 2018 in Frankfurt, Germany.

"The growth and amount of commitment to LED in the entire infrastructure by the government is motivating us to drive more investment and capital in our company here in Pune and towards product development and research. We have seen quite an excitement around our a new wireless driver technology products and have already closed deals at the fair."

Mr Harry Libby, Chief Operating Officer, Fulham Co Inc

"We are showcasing new LEDs with better lumens and better wattages and a range of automotive lights which has received a very good response. We are already working on deals which will soon materialise after the exhibition. LED Expo has become an essential platform for the sector's business and for the country to determine power-saving solutions."
